EMPIRE STRIKES BACK
PART II

“Today the path to total dictatorship can be laid by strictly legal means…. We have a well organized political action group in the country [the Deep State or Invisible Government] determined to destroy our Constitution and establish a one party state [dictatorship]…. It operates secretly, silently, continuously to transform our government…. This ruthless power seeking elite is the disease of our century…. This group is answerable neither to the President, the Congress, nor the courts. It is practically immoveable.” US Senator William Jenner – 1954

“The leftist international World Order is under attack as never before, but not just because of Trump. Trump is simply the catalyst that gave voice to the anger and rebellion of millions in Europe and America – tired of being manipulated and lied to by politicians and the establishment-controlled press. And tired of having freedom of speech suppressed by liberal political correctness.” Joel Skousen – World Affairs Brief – January 20, 2017

INTRODUCTION

Donald Trump has been inaugurated and is now the 45th president of the United States. But never in 240 years of US history has a candidate for President or a President-elect come under such vicious attack by the political left and globalist Establishment in the media and in both political parties – in an attempt to destroy him and his credibility – as Donald Trump has.

The globalists, communists, and political left, aided and abetted by disinformation from the CIA and the Obama Administration, the Democrat (aka communist) Party, and their allies abroad have fabricated the false narrative that the Russians manipulated and stole the US election for Trump. There is absolutely no valid or substantive evidence or intelligence to substantiate these accusations.

They have also released in recent weeks a false dossier (originating from the CIA) alleging that Trump is a sexual/moral pervert. These accusations are being reported non-stop as if they were proven fact in the New York Times, Washington Post, on CNN (called by some the “Communist News Network”), on NBC, CBS, ABC and throughout most of the Establishment media worldwide. If they could not derail Trump’s inauguration, they hoped to discredit his legitimacy as president and thwart his actions once in office. The Establishment’s ongoing theme is that “Trump is an illegitimate President.”

This totally transparent, unprecedented, savage attack against a President-elect proved beyond the shadow of a doubt the incredible power, influence, and reach of the globalist Establishment (especially in their wholly owned media) – as well as their desperation in losing influence and power via Brexit, the potential breakup of the European Union, the Trump upset, and the grassroots awakening and pushback in Europe and America.

America has for decades (at least five or six) been ruled from behind the scenes by a Deep State (invisible) government of the globalist elite – who have worked relentlessly to establish their world socialist government (called “The New World Order” by George Herbert Walker Bush, one of its primary leaders). The European Union, the North American Union, NAFTA, WTO, TPP, the US economic/financial buildup of China over the past 40 years, the war on terrorism, the non-stop wars in the Middle East, numerous US sponsored coups and assassinations, and a plethora of false flag attacks have all been part of this globalist one-world government strategy.

The Deep State has used its people in both major US political parties, in the US Congress, and in the US intelligence agencies such as the CIA, FBI, NSA and other intelligence agencies – including British intelligence – to implement their globalist strategy. The CIA is their major hit team and political (“regime change”) facilitator – having staged many political coups and government overthrows since the 1960s, and assassinating numerous heads of state around the world.

The CIA was utilized by the Deep State to assassinate John F. Kennedy in 1963, his brother Robert Kennedy when he was about to become president in 1968, and very nearly Ronald Reagan in 1980 when he (like Trump) was unexpectedly elected and threatened their agenda. (He survived the attempt – barely – but V.P. Bush Sr. – one of the leading and very powerful globalists and champions of the New World Order – thereafter heavily influenced his administration for the next seven years.)

In just the past few weeks, Rodrigo Duterte, (the anti-establishment president of the Philippines who has been blocking the US military expansion/war preparations in that country preparatory for war with China) announced publicly that the CIA was planning to assassinate him and stage a coup in the Philippines.

Will the Deep State use the CIA or other assets to try to assassinate Trump (à la Ronald Reagan in 1980) – since their draconian efforts to discredit him have failed? Trump and his people know that they will probably try at some point. If Trump is wise, he will have the greatest personal protection of any President in US history, and he will dismantle the evil, Establishment-controlled CIA. BUT, shortly after JFK vowed to do the same, he was brutally murdered.

President Trump now faces three main challenges:

1. Establishment infiltration of his administration via key appointments – which sadly is already occurring. Trump has been conferring closely with Henry Kissinger (one of the top globalist leaders over the past 40 years), Dick Cheney – the neocon/globalist Vice President and controller of Bush Jr. during his two terms, and has appointed a number of Goldman
Sachs officials to top positions, including Secretary of the Treasury – something he said he would never do during his campaign.

2. Sabotage of his agenda by top globalist establishment Congressional Republicans – such as Senators John McCain, Lindsey Graham, Marco Rubio, House Speaker Paul Ryan, Mitch McConnell, and many more who are total lackeys for the Bush family and the globalists.

3. If all else fails, the establishment will try to kill Trump. They have been assassinating opponents who were a threat to their agenda as far back as Abraham Lincoln.

This issue of MIA will analyze Obama’s eleventh-hour efforts to further the communist, Muslim, globalist cause and to undermine the incoming president and his agenda. It will discuss the accelerating efforts of the political left and globalists (just since the November 8 US election), the plunge toward a cashless world, the draconian global efforts to silence the alternate (non-controlled) free media, the push for war, and accelerating people controls everywhere in the US and all over the world.

The good guys may have won a few key battles, but the war for world domination is now about to accelerate dramatically. In short, the Deep State will continue to fight against Trump and for their global government with a vengeance. It is NOT time to relax or go back to sleep – as John Paul Jones once famously said: “We have just begun to fight.”

I. OBAMA’S ELEVENTH-HOUR ATTACK ON AMERICA

Obama’s evil was true to form right up to the very end. MIA readers who understand the times understand that Barack Obama is a communist and Muslim who hates America and is dedicated to its total destruction. Study his Saul Alinsky/George Soros/Establishment connections, and it is not difficult to understand why he has done everything in his power to take down America right up to his last day in office.

The actions taken by Obama are unprecedented for any outgoing president: accusing the Russians of stealing the election for Trump; thousands of pages of executive orders; millions of acres of Federal land grabs; multiple accusations against Russia; throwing Russian diplomats out of the US; the placing of new sanctions against Russia; provocatively deploying US troops and military equipment (for the first time ever) into Poland, Lithuania, and the Baltic region; and US Marines landing in Norway – all in the final days before he left office. Obama has also increased US weapons deliveries to Syrian rebels (including ISIS) in recent weeks to further destabilize the region.

As Michael Snyder recently wrote: “It was clear that Obama was trying his best to sabotage Mr. Trump’s presidency, even if it meant starting World War III in the process. The last three weeks of Obama in the White House witnessed an incredible amount of evil. Many (but not all) of the hurdles and traps being laid by Obama can be corrected, altered, or abolished. Perhaps the easiest way to do this would be to investigate and prove that Obama is not a natural born citizen and thus never eligible to sit in the office of US President. If this avenue is pursued, anything signed by Obama would then be null and void. The ramifications could be far-reaching and include all sorts of appointments, including federal judges.

“The one evil act that cannot be reversed, however, is the UN vote recognizing Palestinian land and demanding the rolling back of Israeli borders to pre-1967 status. The US did not veto the vote (as we have for the past 20 years), which every previous president has done. Indeed, the Obama Administration orchestrated the vote before he left office. There may not be a remedy for this, as the vote was 14-0, with the US abstaining and not using our veto power. This vote truly looks like it was brokered by Mr. Obama, one of his long list of evil acts. The situation with Israel and the Middle East will now be altered permanently and that region moved much closer to major war.”

In his final days, Obama dramatically expanded the NSA’s spying/surveillance powers – allowing it to share all of its surveillance information with 16 other intelligence agencies including the CIA, FBI, and other foreign intelligence groups. This data includes all cell phone calls, emails, social media, credit/debit card activity, and other electronic communications worldwide. PON-DER THIS: 17 US intelligence agencies now have access to ALL of your emails, social media, smartphone calls, apps, ALL of your credit/debit card transactions, ALL of your travel records, and ALL banking (and other financial) information. Will the government use this information against its critics, against Christians, or anyone opposed to their New World Order? What do you think? A global spying/surveillance network is now firmly in place!

A. BARACK OBAMA’S ELEVENTH HOUR AVALANCHE OF REGULATIONS – President Obama’s lame duck administration poured on thousands more new regulations in 2016 at a rate of 18 for every new law passed. While Congress passed just 211 laws, Obama’s team issued an accompanying 3,852 new federal regulations, some costing billions of dollars. The 2016 total was the highest annual number of regulations under Obama, although former President Bush issued more in the wake of 9/11. The proof that it was an overwhelming year for rules and regulations is in the Federal Register, which ended the year by printing a record-setting 97,110 pages, according to the analysis from the Competitive Enterprise Institute.

DID YOU GET THAT? Over 97,000 pages of new regulations in just one year. Did you read the Federal Register – did you study them? How many of them will you violate in 2017 – each violation making you a criminal?

President-elect Trump promised to slash federal regulations, even pledging to cut two current rules for every one he imposes. Congressional leaders also promised to slash rules and regulations that have escalated under Obama. We shall see! In his eleventh hour, Obama also pardoned 212 criminals and commuted (i.e., lowered or eliminated) the sentences of 1,385 more convicted criminals. Obama also gave the Department of Homeland Security control over all state elections – calling the “protecting of these elections” part of protecting America’s “critical infrastructure.”

Three days before leaving office, Obama gave a half billion dollars to the United Nations Green Climate Fund. In the days before leaving office, Obama blocked Cuban refugees (who are trying to escape the new communist crackdown in Cuba since Fidel Castro’s death) from coming into the United States – probably in retaliation for 95% of Cubans in Florida voting for Trump.

B. OBAMA’S EXECUTIVE ORDER RAM-PAGE – As the final grains of sand ran through the hourglass of Obama’s presidency, he was energetically using executive decrees to bind the hands of his successor. (Indeed, Obama issued 16 more Executive Orders in the day before the Inauguration.) As the Hill wrote: “Obama’s decision on December 29 to sanction Russian entities for election-related hacking is just the latest obstacle he has placed in Trump’s way.”

Days before the sanctions were unveiled, the Obama administration quietly orchestrated the UN Security Council’s vote to condemn Israel and pass a resolution to divide the country into two states with the Palestinians – demanding that the Israelis return to their pre-1967 (Six Day War) boundaries. This will lead to extensive (and bloody) conflict in Israel, and helps to consolidate and advance global and Islamic opposition to the Jewish state. Obama also scrapped the last vestiges of a registration system used largely to vet Muslim immigrants. Right up to the very end, Obama has worked to advance the cause of his Muslim brothers.

He permanently banned oil and gas drilling across large swaths of the Atlantic and Arctic Oceans, closed off 1.6 million acres of Western land to development, and also presided over the creation of an official multi-agency “disinformation” unit that has been described by critics as a Ministry of Truth.

[ED. NOTE: We hope that Trump will early-on issue a number of Executive Orders that will undo the damage Obama did in his eight years and especially in the closing weeks and months of his administration.]

C. OBAMA’S MASSIVE LAND SEIZURES – In eight years as president, Obama (via Executive Orders) has seized 553 million acres of land (mostly in the Western states) – that is 865,000 square miles, which is three times the size of Texas. (These land seizures also included the associated water resources.) Obama seized 260 million acres in 2016 alone – with millions of acres confiscated in the waning days of his regime since the November 8 election.
The Obama Federal land grab is the largest in US history – more than all prior US presidents combined, and is no different from the land grabs of communist dictators all over the world over the past 100 years. The Federal government now owns 80% of Nevada and 65% of Utah. And all of this has happened while most Americans were sleeping. Is America already a communist dictatorship – quietly taken over by the patient gradualism of the political left over the past 60 years?

D. OBAMA’S ELEVENTH HOUR APPOINTMENT OF THOUSANDS OF LEFTISTS – In the final six weeks of Obama’s reign, he appointed thousands of leftists and gay/lesbians to key positions in government departments, agencies, commissions, and other key posts. Some of these will be removed by the Trump team, but many will remain in government to continue the leftist policies of the Obama regime and to thwart at every turn Trump’s efforts to turn the country around. These appointments will make a change in direction much more difficult. Trump should be strongly encouraged by his supporters to negate ALL of these Obama eleventh-hour appointments.

E. OBAMA QUIETLY SIGNS PROPAGANDA ACT TO COUNTER “FAKE NEWS” – In Britain, controversial laws have been introduced to stem free speech, which, over the passage of time will be used to halt any individual, website, or news outlet from reporting against the government narrative, with so-called “fake news” (i.e., defined as anything critical of the government or the globalists) eventually being outlawed. On December 23, President Obama signed the National Defense Authorization Act (NDAA), which authorizes $611 billion for military spending in 2017. Buried deep inside the voluminous document, the NDAA authorizes the “Countering Foreign Propaganda and Disinformation Act of 2016.”

Senator Rob Portman justified the act, saying that, “there is currently no single US governmental agency or department charged with the national level development, integration, and synchronization of whole-of-government strategies to counter foreign propaganda and disinformation.” After Trump’s election, Russia is in the crosshairs in the international propaganda war, while the Act effectively brings with it the creation of a post cold-war Ministry of Information (or disinformation, depending on your view) to combat it at home. The US Senate has effectively brought into law a bill that further chips away at press liberties in the US. The bill sets the stage for future witch hunts and website shutdowns, purely as a result of an accusation that a targeted media outlet or site is considered a source of “disinformation and propaganda,” and is then shut down by the government.

F. THE OBAMA REFUGEE RESETTLEMENT PROGRAM IS TRANSFORMING AMERICA – Someone once said: “If the refugees are not assimilating, then we’re creating a huge Trojan horse.” Leo Hohmann recently authored a book – “Stealth Invasion: Muslim Conquest Through Immigration and Resettlement Jihad.” Hohmann wrote: Like seeds in a garden, refugees are being planted in cities and towns all across America. But the fact that it’s being done in secret should be setting off alarm bells. Why is the Federal Refugee Resettlement Program being done in secret? Today, refugees are being placed in small and large cities all over the country – places such as Stone Mountain, Georgia; Twin Falls, Idaho; Rutland, Vermont; and even Salt Lake City – with no input from the local communities. You might be surprised to learn that even in Mormon-dominated Salt Lake City, there are five Muslim mosques.

Once residents find out about the plan, it is almost always too late to stop it or even to ask any questions. And those who do ask questions are often castigated as bigots or xenophobes who hate refugees. So native residents are left with a town they no longer recognize. Before long you end up with cities like Dearborn, Michigan or Hamtramck, Michigan (two cities with large Muslim populations), where your vote is going to be watered down and eliminated by a foreign culture. Resentment among the native population grows whenever a refugee commits a crime and gets off with little or no punishment – which is now becoming the norm in Muslim-inundated Europe. And crimes perpetrated by Muslim refugees are exploding.

And, yes, it is now happening in America. In Twin Falls, Idaho, three Muslim refugee boys raped a 5-year-old special-needs girl in an apartment complex. An elderly resident witnessed it when she walked in on it in the laundry room. Moreover, the oldest boy filmed the assault, so there was no lack of evidence. But when some bloggers initially reported on the incident, they said the refugee boys were Syrians, whereas they were actually from Iraq and Sudan. The establishment local media seized on that mistake to try and deny the whole incident. If these had been Christian boys raping a Muslim girl, how would they have reported the incident?

The US, under our Muslim President Obama, has been admitting more than 100,000 Muslim immigrants each year, and they come from a wide variety of countries. In fact, the US continues to take in Somali refugees 23 years after that country collapsed into civil war. We’ve been getting 5,000 to 10,000 Somali refugees per year since the ’90s. Over the past year or so, Obama has admitted thousands of Muslim Haitians into the US. America is headed down a suicidal path, but it’s a subtle invasion. Not many Americans understand the full extent of the problem – especially if it is not happening in a neighborhood near them.

People can talk all they want about stricter vetting of incoming refugees, but that misses the point: The problem is that the US is importing people with a mentality that is antithetical to American values and which cultivates a climate where people (especially naïve youth) are becoming radicalized. It’s not just that we are letting in known Muslim terrorists – we are creating a breeding ground for homegrown Muslim terrorists in cities and communities all across America. This has been orchestrated for eight years by our Muslim president – who has continually repeated that 99% of all Muslims are peaceful.

Media personality Ami Horowitz once filmed a documentary in Minneapolis, a city with many Somali Muslims. Almost every Muslim the filmmaker spoke to said Sharia law should be supreme over the US Constitution. The fact is that a very low percentage of the million or so Muslim refugees Obama has brought into the country are assimilating into our culture. They are here to convert our culture to Islam and impose Sharia law – as they are now doing in communities in England, France, Sweden, and across Europe.

What we are doing is bringing a huge Trojan Horse into America. We should only bring in people who will affirmatively love America, and cherish our values. We are fools to be bringing into America millions of Muslims who will never accept our political, cultural, moral, and freedom values and way of life. Sharia law (which is now spreading all across Europe and being pushed in communities across America) is antithetical to those values.

CONCLUSION

In eight years, in many ways, Obama has taken the United States of America to the level of a third-world country, with crippling debt, massive unemployment, the fostering and increase of a welfare-based society, and a deteriorated and ramshackle infrastructure. Check out the inner cities all across America: Los Angeles, San Francisco, Detroit, Chicago, Atlanta, Baltimore, etc. They are “disaster zones” filled with tent (squatter) camps of the homeless, and exploding crime. A word of caution: if you check out Chicago, wear a bulletproof vest. It’s now the murder capital of the US – in spite of (or maybe because of) the strongest gun control laws in America. Obama has also taken the US (and global) homosexual movement to heights (or is it depths?) never before imagined.

On March 23, 2010, he cajoled, pushed, backdoored, and forced the legislative enslavement of every citizen of the United States under the (Un)Affordable Care Act, or “ObamaCare.” Obama has made every citizen beholden to the State, and dependent on the State to certify that person as being in “good standing” and “paid up” under the law – the law that he created.

Obama has been actively fostering the passage of “minute-to-midnight” legislation and actions, such as a no-fly zone in Syria; new sanctions against Russia; the betrayal of Israel; the demonization and potential criminalization of the alternative media; the solidification of his already-crafted executive actions enabling the EPA and other bureaucracies to continue in theft and enforcement; and the placing of the United States in precarious positions in numerous theaters (think Russian border, Syria, South China Sea) where war could commence in the blink of an eye. Between the November 8 election and the January 20 inauguration, Obama’s evil was demonstrated in spades. Indeed that evil destructive ness was greater than that perpetrated by any lame-duck president in US history.

Obama has, over eight years, unilaterally imposed many dictatorial measures that could be found in the old Soviet Union or Nazi Germany. None of this should come as a surprise to those aware of Obama’s communist and Muslim heritage and the strategy of communist Saul Alinsky (Barack’s and Hillary’s mentor) and Obama’s top puppet master (and financial angel), George Soros. The assignment was very simple – THE TOT AL DESTRUCTION OF AMERICA.

II. ARE THE GLOBALISTS ABOUT TO GO AFTER YOUR PASSPORT?

Control and close monitoring of all international travel is on the globalists’ agenda. Just as they are accelerating their war on cash since the November 8 election, they are now starting a propaganda campaign to control, monitor, or restrict international travel – especially for people they don’t like, critics of the government, or people who have diversified assets abroad. Of course, the excuse is “to stop terrorism.” The global socialists have a number of priorities on their global people control agenda: 1) Control of all money – elimination of cash; 2) Control (or censorship) of all information (discussed in a recent MIA article); 3) Control of everyone’s health via their medical monopoly; 4) Control of all food supplies – via GMOs and control of all seed production (think Monsanto); 5) Control of all firearms – as in total disarmament of the public (think Chicago). 6) Control (and monitoring) of all people’s movements – both domestically and internationally.

A. THE COMING GLOBALIST PUSH FOR A ONE-WORLD GLOBAL PASSPORT – Recently, CNN (the Establishment’s and US government’s number one propaganda mouthpiece) had a program in which they said the following: “The bottom line is that anyone can be ISIS. We therefore need an approach to securing civilized societies that doesn’t allow individuals to hide behind the cloak of Western passports…. The time has come for a ‘global passport,’ a parallel digital certification of a person’s identity, background, criminal record, travel history, and other details. The digital record would be regularly updated based on databases from airlines, customs agencies, banks, and other sources, and could be managed by an independent international authority.”

The argument for global passports is a familiar one – “You are in danger of being killed by terrorists. We will save you by removing yet another of your freedoms.” Or, as Hermann Goering said, “The people can always be brought to do the bidding of the leaders. That is easy. All you have to do is tell them they are being attacked and denounce the pacifists for lack of patriotism and exposing the country to danger. It works the same way in any country.”

Over one billion people presently cross borders each year. In addition, there are over 250 million people who are expatriates – living outside their home country. These numbers are higher than ever before in history, and growing. As The Great Unraveling (i.e., global pushback against the Establishment) progresses, we will witness a dramatic increase in both statistics. Along the way, we can expect the more restrictive governments, particularly those of the EU and US, to institute limitations on travel for their citizens, in order to keep them captive at home.

B. PLAN B: A SECOND PASSPORT – So, we can therefore anticipate changes in the issuance of passports. There are two concepts emerging with regard to the future of passports, and they are direct opposites to each other. The FIRST is a Global Passport that all countries would issue. They would share computer information on all passport holders. The SECOND is a proliferation of passports created by an easing of citizenship requirements in small countries, resulting in each individual having the ability to possess several passports, thus diminishing his “ownership” (or control) by his home country.

These two concepts are both almost certain to develop considerably in the coming years, and for the same reason. As stated, the more restrictive countries like the US are likely to push for a global passport – an Orwellian document that says, “No matter where you are, you travel on our document. We have all your information and we own you – and with the simple push of a button, we can freeze your passport.” The more this trend increases in prominence, the more the second trend will increase, in direct reaction. More and more countries will offer citizenship to non-nationals, as the demand for freedom increases among oppressed people.

Most of the countries that presently offer “Citizenship by Investment” are small countries – Malta and Cyprus in the Mediterranean, plus five island nations in the Caribbean – Grenada, Antigua & Barbuda, St. Kitts & Nevis, Dominica, and, recently, St. Lucia. A visit to any of the small Caribbean countries will reveal that, since the decline of the sugar industry, they have had few choices with regard to future prosperity.

Quaint small towns and villages and nice beaches attract a certain amount of tourism, but something greater is needed to support an entire population. The way it works is that an applicant can either buy citizenship (approval takes only a month or two) for $250,000, or he can buy into a real estate project for $400,000 or more. Due to recent success, other island nations have jumped on board, offering their own programs – and here’s where it gets interesting. As soon as eight or ten island nations are offering similar programs, it will become a citizenship norm for the Caribbean.

And, of course, that will mean competition will develop. With many countries to choose from, prices will need to drop. At some point, national leaders will seek to increase gross sales by lowering the sale price. Although $400,000 is out of reach to most who dream of buying an alternate passport, there will be far more takers at $200,000 or even $100,000, and prices could ultimately drop to $25-50,000. At that price, hundreds of thousands of second-passport seekers will jump on board. Indeed, many will purchase passports from several islands. (If one backup-passport is good, multiple backup-passports are better.)

At present, these passport schemes have attracted Russians, Canadians, Middle-Easterners, Chinese, and, increasingly, Americans. At present, the US is the foremost objector to “Citizenship by Investment”, describing its purpose to be “to provide cover for financial crimes.” However, over one hundred other countries, including most of Europe, accept the passports. The US is very much in the minority here.

CONCLUSION

This is an issue to be watched closely. Historically, whenever governments have put the squeeze on their citizens’ freedoms, citizens have reacted by trying to escape. The squeeze in many countries is presently at its zenith, and many, many people are voting with their feet. There will always be takers in the world when this occurs, and, in small countries around the world, opportunities for increased freedom are very much on the increase. The globalist Establishment sees this trend and will do its utmost to fight back. Reread the CNN quote above. In the meantime, people who understand the times should be considering a Plan B.

III. THE ESTABLISHMENT

POWERS-THAT-BE WANT WAR

The rising hysteria about Russia is best understood as fulfilling two needs for Official Washington: the Military Industrial Complex’s transitioning from the “war on terror” to a more lucrative “new cold war” – and blunting the threat that a President Trump poses to the neoconservative/liberal-interventionist foreign-policy establishment. By hyping the Russian “threat,” the neocons and their liberal-hawk sidekicks, who include most of the mainstream US news media, can guarantee bigger military budgets from Congress. The hype also sets in motion a blocking maneuver to impinge on any significant change in direction for US foreign policy under Trump.

A. THE FOURTH TURNING AND THE CYCLES OF WAR – Recently, Michael Krieger wrote: After spending some time watching the recently concluded intelligence briefing to the US Senate, one of the most disturbing and ominous conclusions one comes to is that the Establishment seriously wants war. One of the most discomforting aspects of Neil Howe and William Strauss’ seminal work on generational cycles, “The Fourth Turning” (1997), is the fact that as far as American history is concerned, they all climax and end with massive wars.

To be more specific, the first “fourth turning” in American history culminated with the Revolution-
Since the 1970s, ICA has recommended that clients maintain a portion of their assets in silver. Over the decades the supply/demand shortfall has grown, which is why we believe silver will improve a portfolio’s long-term performance. The fundamentals that determine silver’s price historically differ from those affecting other financial assets. Some of these fundamentals include:

- The continued “inflate or die” Fed policy.
- There is soaring demand in electronics and medical technology.
- The US silver strategic stockpile is now fully depleted.
- Demand for silver from the US Mint continues to increase.

As a result of these influences, the silver market has experienced several substantial swings in the gold:silver ratio. Volatility created by outside forces creates valuable opportunities to compound ounces in a client’s portfolio.

ary War (1775-1783), the second culminated with the Civil War (1861-1865), while the third ended with the bloodiest war in world history, World War II (1939-1945). The number of years between the end of the Revolutionary War and the start of the Civil War was 78 years, and the number of years between the end of the Civil War and the start of World War II was 74 years (76 years if you use America’s entry into the war as your starting date). Therefore, if Howe & Strauss’ theory has any validity, we’re due for a major conflict somewhere around 75 years from the end of World War II. That brings us to 2020.

And now there are a growing number of signs that the world is headed into another major conflict. From an unnecessary resurgence of a Cold War with Russia to increased tensions in the South China Sea and complete chaos and destruction in the Middle East, the world is a gigantic tinderbox. All it will take to transform these already existing conflict zones into a major conflagration is another severe global economic downturn, which can be expected to happen within the next 1-2 years. This puts us on a perfect collision course with the 2020 timeframe.

B. WHO BENEFITS FROM WAR WITH RUSSIA? – One of the biggest dangers had Hillary Clinton been elected was that she embodied the neocon, neoliberal, military-intelligence-industrial complex’s burning desire for a global confrontation with Russia, as well as continued disastrous imperial adventures all over the world. Many conservatives hoped that, with her loss, cooler heads would prevail and the American public might receive a much-needed respite from never-ending war. This has not happened.

If anything, those in the Hillary/Obama/Establishment camp have become even more aggressive and unhinged in their bloodlust, and appear willing to do “whatever it takes” to start a fight that will result in unimaginable devastation for the American public. First, we need to understand the motivation of those driving us in this disastrous direction. Their primary motivation is pretty simple, a desire to retain power and status. They can see the handwriting on the wall when it comes to the disintegration of status quo and their authority and credibility, and they fundamentally understand the need to focus on an outside enemy in order to distract attention away from internal failures.

Second, we need to understand where we are in the war-creating process. We must understand that very powerful interests have already decided they want this war. To them, this isn’t about weighing facts and being reasonable, they’ve already made up their minds. And so they are in the process of psychologically preparing the American people for war – just as George Bush Jr. and the Establishment media prepared the public for war with Saddam Hussein in Iraq in 2003 with the blatantly false story that he had “dangerous weapons of mass destruction” – which he did not – and that we were seriously threatened by these WMDs!

C. PREPARING THE PUBLIC PSYCHOLOGICALLY FOR WAR – Right at this very moment, we are being sold on this war by the media, politicians, intelligence agencies, as well as various other vested interests who will benefit from war and America’s continuing imperial dominance abroad. Just consider what globalist Republican Senators Lindsey Graham and John McCain, GOP House Speaker Paul Ryan, and Obama’s Director of National Intelligence James Clapper have been saying. They are labeling Russia as our dangerous enemy that must be punished.

Why? Because, they say, Russia provided information to WikiLeaks, which was embarrassing to the Democratic Party, causing Hillary Clinton to lose the election. This “manipulation of the US election by Russia” is now the Establishment’s major propaganda line and justification to vilify and punish Russia. (It also gives them a face-saving excuse as to why Hillary lost and Trump won, and a rallying cry for their leftist cadres.) But before Hillary lost the election, the propaganda line was “Russia’s aggression against the Ukraine.” That was their justification. Then their propaganda line changed after November 8, but the target remained the same, as did their ultimate goal of war.

Wholly unsubstantiated (indeed false) claims that Russia helped rig the election in favor of Trump are now the new justification for the coming conflict with Russia. It would all be absurd and laughable except that the entire Establishment and their US (and global) media have jumped on the bandwagon and are now pushing this line non-stop.
(Just read the disinformation articles in the New York Times and the Washington Post, or watch the CNN propaganda.) The irony is that the election theft they are accusing Trump and the Russians of — and the “fake news” is what they were massively guilty of doing themselves — stealing 3-5 million votes (but not quite enough) and total distortion of the facts regarding Trump and cover-up of Hillary’s criminal and treasonous activities.

CONCLUSION

What is not laughable is the new round of sanctions against Russia that Obama imposed, the kicking of 35 Russian diplomats out of the US, and the US moving more troops and weapons up to the Russian border — all in the weeks following the election. Nobody ever said the Establishment and the political left would give up easily. We need to understand that those who want this war will be absolutely relentless. Their propaganda will not end until they get exactly what they want. They want to totally discredit Trump, and they want war.

And one more thing to watch closely: The Establishment has been working feverishly to get their people into key foreign policy positions in the Trump Administration (i.e., State Department, Defense Department, CIA, and other intelligence agencies). Disturbingly, this “join them if you can’t defeat them” Establishment strategy seems to be working — judging by many of Trump’s appointments. He has even appointed eight or nine Goldman Sachs people to high positions in the financial area — including Secretary of Treasury. Ominous!

IV. EUROPE IS MOVING RAPIDLY INTO TOTAL INTERNET CENSORSHIP

The political left and global socialists in America, Europe, and worldwide are in a full panic mode over the election of Donald Trump, Brexit, the collapse of the Italian government — all attributable in large part to the rapid spread of truth (i.e., information that is against or exposes the Establishment and political left) in its various forms on the Internet, social media, etc. If this rapid proliferation of truth continues, the European Union could be voted out of existence — which would be an incredible victory for freedom. The powers that be (who were clearly caught by surprise by this phenomenon) are now fighting back with a vengeance against the free Internet, and under the propaganda banner of “protecting the public from being deceived by ‘fake news’” are moving to censor all conservative, anti-government, anti-Establishment content from the Internet. But, not to worry — like the invasive Homeland Security body and baggage searches, “its for your protection.”

EU Parliament President Martin Schulz and Germany’s Justice Minister Heiko Maas have both recently come out against so-called “fake news.” Both politicians discussed plans to create laws banning platforms like Facebook from spreading what they consider to be “fabricated stories” presented as real news, something both men said “was harmful to democracy.... We need a systematic legal framework to protect the people,” Maas told the “Bild am Sonntag” newspaper. The ruling Christian Democrats (CDU) and coalition partners the Social Democrats (SPD) have already announced their intention to craft new legislation in late January 2017 to stop the dissemination of fake news.

[ED. NOTE: The hypocrisy and distortion of reality on this issue is unbelievable. The Establishment-controlled media in America, Europe, and much of the world have been disseminating “fake news,” propaganda, and disinformation non-stop for decades. But now they are panicking because their information monopoly has been challenged on the Internet.]

Schulz offered more concrete plans, saying that to combat “the subversion of democracy” that occurs when foreign interests [ED. NOTE: They continue to blame Russia for Trump’s victory.] create fake viral stories, “not only a national, but a European” solution is necessary. Thomas Oppermann, who leads the SPD in Germany’s parliament (the Bundestag), decided on even more drastic action to combat “fake news.” Speaking with “Der Spiegel” magazine, Oppermann said that harsh punitive measures were necessary and suggested 500,000-euro fines be imposed on the portals of misinformation. While clearly referring to Facebook, the EU Commission is looking more widely. Facebook and Google have both stated that “fake news” stories will be taken down by an army of “fact-checkers.” “Our team will continue to closely vet all prospective publishers and monitor existing ones to ensure compliance,” said Facebook recently, with Google echoing the same message.

“Berlin has concerns that similar foul play that saw Donald Trump elected could affect the German vote,” says one news outlet in Germany. It is obvious that the Establishment is panicking, and continues to refuse the democratic will of the people and blame the Russian bogeyman and their messengers – not their own mishandling of the great socialist EU project. Euronews recently ran a story stating that experts say the phenomenon (of fake news) is a major problem in Europe, ahead of polls in France and Germany next year that could prove vital for the EU’s future. It comes after Italian fact-checking website Pagella Politica claimed half the stories shared on social media in the run-up to the country’s recent constitutional referendum – the result of which prompted the resignation of prime minister Matteo Renzi – were fake.

QUESTION: Are these leftist and Establishment selected and controlled “fact checkers” to be trusted? Sure, just as much as Hermann Goering’s Nazi censors were to be trusted in the 1930s.

The International Business Times went with the story “How US and EU failings allowed Kremlin propaganda and fake news to spread through the West.” IBT went into hysteria mode and hypothesized that Russia was guilty of “engaging in a new type of warfare against the West, using information, cyber attacks, and propaganda to exploit weaknesses in western societies and undermine faith in their leaders and institutions.”

The political elite want to crack down on news and information that exposes their incredible evil and mendacity, now labeled as “fake news,” which essentially amounts to pretty much anything that they disagree with or doesn’t fit their own worldview and desired outcomes. Like the Nazi and Soviet information censoring apparatuses of the past, the Gatekeepers in the form of “fact-checkers” will be deciding what’s false and what’s true, with little or no vetting. Long, hard fought-for civil liberties and rights, along with free expression, will be handed over to organizations approved by governments that are convinced we shouldn’t have those rights in the first place. Global Internet information censorship (by and for the benefit of the global socialist Establishment and the political left) will soon be a fait accompli – probably before the end of 2017 – unless the public wakes up and says NOOO!

V. THE EUROPEAN COMMISSION THREATENS WIDESPREAD ASSET CONFISCATION

It is clear to those who understand the times that the increasing terror attacks (especially in Europe and America – many of which may be government perpetrated “false flags”) are being used as a justification for these governments to impose draconian new controls on the people – especially financial controls. All of this is leading to a global cashless society and global capital and exchange controls – to protect us all from the “big, bad terrorists.” But what if the governments are the biggest terrorists of all? Who will protect us from them?

Recently, Jeff Berwick wrote: The “war on terror” continues: The US and NATO attacked Libya and Syria and began transporting Muslims to Europe as a means of destabilization. They have also conducted numerous other false flag attacks, such as Charlie Hebdo, by which to further confuse and imprison the local population. The most recent was the so-called “terror attack” that occurred several days before Christmas in Berlin, Germany. A truck was deliberately driven into a crowded market, killing 12 people and leaving 48 injured.

Now it reaches a logical conclusion with cash and gold being confiscated in the name of making people “safe.” There is always an ulterior motive that becomes clearly apparent after such “terror” events. It is no coincidence that in Europe, the European Commission just made a new capital control proposition. They want to begin restricting cash and precious metals transfers from outside the EU. Of course, the reason given for this suppression is to shut down avenues such as these that are supposedly used to covertly fund militant attacks across the continent.

Yet to be mentioned is that every terror attack and almost all significant ones are likely staged and done with very little money. The most recent truck attack in Germany, if official reports from the Fake News are to be believed, encompassed one man with a gun stealing a truck. If the laughable official story regarding 9/11 is to be believed, it took only 19 guys with box cutters.

But the European commission has been pressing harder lately to set up an “EU-focused terrorist finance-tracking program.” To date, this has been opposed by those who campaign for privacy and by some EU lawmakers, who recognize that it would allow widespread checks on consumers’ bank transfers. People entering Europe with more than 10,000 euros have for many years been required to declare their sum to customs officials before entering the union. But now officials will be permitted to seize cash or precious metals valued under that threshold from those deemed “suspicious.”

Similar proposals were made after the attacks in Paris. French officials claimed they were funded by such cash alternatives as Bitcoin and prepaid debit cards.... This new deal would require prepaid cardholders to present identification prior to making purchases of 150 euros or more. In spite of the potential unwanted attention one may receive by owning these assets, the demand and consequently the price for precious metals (and alternatives like Bitcoin) has skyrocketed. The prospect of these European capital controls being signed into law, combined with the already stringent controls existing in China, and new controls in India, has made them even more valuable (i.e., gold, in recent weeks has risen almost $100).

Capital restrictions in conjunction with cash wars being waged in India and Venezuela are causing a large number of people to anticipate their government’s implementation of similar such restrictions in their home countries.

CONCLUSION

MIA believes there will be draconian cash controls and capital and foreign exchange restrictions imposed before the end of 2017 – on a global basis. Already bank wires into countries such as India and Nepal are highly restricted. As the globalists see themselves loosing control of their financial empire and political monopoly, they have become desperate, and are accelerating all of their people control and financial control measures. Readers who wish to move or relocate assets abroad should do so very quickly, as the door is likely to slam shut suddenly. [REREAD THAT LAST SENTENCE.]

VI. IS INDIA GETTING READY TO TARGET GOLD AND GOLD JEWELRY IN ITS WAR AGAINST “HIDDEN MONEY”?

[ED. NOTE: Information has now surfaced that the US government (and the globalist Establishment that controls it) orchestrated the whole cash withdrawal fiasco in India as their grand experiment for going cashless on a global basis.]

Global financial repression picks up steam, led by India. After declaring large denomination currency notes illegal (i.e., 86% of total currency) India is now turning its sights on gold ownership. In an article entitled “Message to Modi: Do No More Harm,” Mihir Sharma wrote: The chaos accompacying “demonetization” has not eased up noticealy. It seems likely the disruption to the economy, especially in cash-centric rural India, has hit growth sharply. Demonetization was originally sold as a “surgical strike on black money” – the illicit piles of cash many rich Indians have accumulated out of sight of the taxman.

It’s now clear the policy has been anything but surgical. Worse still, uncomfortable questions are being asked about whether the complicated rules and exemptions that have accompanied demonetization have allowed black-money holders to launder most of their cash. Of late, Modi has chosen to focus instead on demonetization as a means of advancing a cashless economy.

Yet the idea of “a war on unaccounted-for wealth” remains central to demonetization’s propaganda appeal, which means Modi will have to find other ways to keep that narrative going. So the government is now beginning to push income-tax officials to investigate those who might be concealing assets in forms other than cash, such as gold. The government has recently instituted rules governing when tax officials may seize gold: Nothing would happen “if the holding is limited to 500 grams per married woman, 250 grams per unmar-rried woman, and 100 grams per male.” (In other words only a few ounces of gold ownership will be tolerated!) It also said that there would be no limits on jewelry “provided it is acquired ... from inheritance.” Also, the “officer conducting [the] search has discretion to not seize an even higher quantity of gold jewelry.”

[WE REPEAT: Modi is taking orders from the American globalist Establishment! India is the test case! This whole fiasco is being orchestrated from America!]

CONCLUSION

WHAT’S NEXT? In all likelihood, a huge global currency crisis is coming. Where it strikes first is unknown, but the list of likely candidates increases every year. Consider Japan, China, and the EU. India caught everyone off guard – but it is a grand experiment in the globalists’ move to a global cashless society. However, this insanity (and similar actions around the globe) is going to trigger a massive global currency crisis (think of the concept of “unintended consequences”). And in spite of the Establishment’s relentless war against gold, there will be a massive global stampede INTO gold – the safe haven that the globalists cannot control. (In the weeks leading up to this writing, gold has risen $100. Something is in the wind!)

VII. IN 2017, AMERICA’S BIGGEST THREAT IS STILL ITS BANKS

Ten years ago, the US and the world entered the worst banking crisis since the 1930s. Trillions of dollars in taxpayer-funded bailout funds were funneled into the big Establishment-dominated mega banks and the can was kicked down the road. But the global financial crisis never went away – it was just postponed – until now. As we enter 2017, a decade later, the implosion is beginning again – this time starting in Europe. Can it be contained and papered over again? We shall see!

A. THE CONCENTRATION OF WORLD BANKING POWER IN A SMALL HANDFUL OF MEGABANKS – Recently, Pam and Russ Martens described the emerging threat: In 1934 the US had 14,146 commercial banks holding insured deposits. By 1985, that number had barely budged, standing at 14,417. Then came the Bill Clinton administration in the 1990s and its reckless and unprecedented banking deregulation that allowed the giant Wall Street banks to swallow up, or drive out of business, thousands of banks across America. According to the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (FDIC), as of December 22, 2016, there are only 5,927 FDIC insured banks left in the US, a stunning decline of 59 percent from 1985.

But those numbers are just the tip of the iceberg. Banking concentration in the US has reached an unprecedented crisis level when it comes to deposits. Out of the dramatically shrunk base of 5,927 FDIC insured banks that were holding a total of $11.2 trillion in total deposits (insured and uninsured deposits) as of September 30, 2016, just four banks hold 44.6 percent of all deposits. Those four banks are JPMorgan Chase Bank N.A., with $1.486 trillion in total deposits; Bank of America N.A., with $1.3 trillion in total deposits; Wells Fargo Bank N.A., with $1.3 trillion in total deposits; and Citibank N.A., with total deposits of $947.8 billion. (Deposit figures are as of September 30, 2016. The source is the FDIC.)

Each of those four banks also has a huge (dominant) presence on Wall Street and massive influence within the globalist Establishment and both of its two controlled political parties. Each of them received massive taxpayer bailouts during the 2008 crash; each received secret, below-market interest rate loans from the Federal Reserve during the crisis; and three of them (JPMorgan Chase, Bank of America, and Citibank) are currently holding tens of trillions of dollars in derivatives within the insured banking subsidiary – meaning there would be a forced taxpayer bailout if the derivatives blew up the bank.

Here’s why these behemoth banks pose such a threat to the safety and soundness of the US banking system. The FDIC’s Deposit Insurance Fund (DIF) as of September 30, 2016 stood at $80.7 billion to insure a total of $6.8 trillion of DIF-insured deposits. That’s a slim reserve ratio of 1.18 percent in a banking system that required $16 trillion of secret Federal Reserve loans to resuscitate itself from 2007 to 2010. Citigroup, parent of Citibank, alone received $2.5 trillion in cumulative revolving loans of the $16 trillion loaned by the Fed. It has more derivatives today than it did at the peak of the crisis in 2008.

How did Bill Clinton’s administration set this train wreck in motion? In 1999, Clinton signed the repeal of the Glass-Steagall Act, which had kept the nation’s banking system safe for 66 years. This action allowed Wall Street’s speculative trading activities in its investment banks and brokerage firms to merge with commercial banks holding insured deposits that are backstopped by the US taxpayer. But Clinton did two other horrendous banking deeds: in 1994 Clinton signed into law the Riegle-Neal Interstate Banking and Branching Efficiency Act. This permitted bank holding companies to acquire banks anywhere in the nation and invalidated the laws of 36 states that had allowed interstate banking only on a reciprocal or regional basis. And finally, Clinton signed into law the Commodity Futures Modernization Act of 2000, allowing trillions of dollars of OTC derivatives on Wall Street to escape regulation.

It is nothing short of fiduciary negligence that Congress has allowed this dangerous banking system to remain unreformed a decade after the greatest financial collapse since the Great Depression. But rest assured, the Establishment and its captive banks will protect themselves in the coming financial collapse – at the expense of the US taxpayers and all of us. But sometimes “the best laid plans of mice and men go awry,” and, in spite of their massive manipulation of all markets, they still lose control. This is what has the Establishment so worried and why they are pushing the world so hard to go “cashless” – to lock up all liquidity in the banking system. And if or when all else fails, their Plan B is war!

CAVEAT: The majority of your money should NOT be in the banking system at this time. Only what you need to live on and pay your monthly bills.

B. THE EMERGING NEW BANKING SYSTEM: NO CASH EQUALS NO FREEDOM – The year 2017 will bring us a step closer to eliminating physical money through governments’ assault on the underground (the real “free market”) economy. Europe has moved forward to make payments electronically on an instant basis. The same system is being turned on this year in Australia. The entire reason the Founding Fathers of the United States prohibited direct taxation was to protect our liberty. Today, governments need to know absolutely everything, and once they eliminate physical cash they will have achieved their dream. They continue to shift the blame for their mismanagement to the rich tax evaders. They claim they would have no problem if everyone paid every penny due on taxes. Of course, it does not matter how much tax they collect – it will never be enough. In India today, if you withdraw YOUR cash from YOUR bank account, you are now charged a government tax of 2.5%.

Eliminating physical money will lead, they believe, to a “financial utopia.” By changing the banking system to instantaneous transfer, they can eliminate physical money and track everything we do all the time. There will be the surrender of all liberty and the termination of our civil liberties. This is how empires collapse.

CONCLUSION

It is very dangerous to keep the majority of your funds in a bank (or banks). Those savings are at risk in a future banking crisis – the FDIC insurance is a pathetic joke – and will NOT protect you. And the other great risk – government confiscation of some or all of your assets – is also a growing risk. We are already seeing this beginning in European bail-ins, and in a global banking crisis it could come to a neighborhood near you.

VIII. THE WORLD IN BRIEF

ECONOMIC

• The so-called Fourth Industrial Revolution, the rise of automation and artificial intelligence, is projected to be far more destructive globally to jobs currently favored by women than to jobs favored by men, according to the WEF. Three of the top growth areas – management, computer and math, and architecture and engineering – have low female participation with little expectations of significant increases.

LEGAL

• The Alliance Defending Freedom has filed a lawsuit against Kellogg Community College in Michigan for allegedly arresting three students for handing out copies of the US Constitution.
MEDICAL

- Smallpox, syphilis, plague, cholera – some of the planet’s most notorious scourges – dramatically expanded their reach thanks to unsuspecting travelers. With a record 3.77 billion air passengers worldwide last year, new disease-causing microbes have never traversed the planet faster. The fatal cases fit a pattern doctors in North America, Europe, and Australia have observed for more than a decade: Travelers who have spent time in India have an especially high risk.

POLITICAL

- Obama did not seriously focus on pardons and commutations until 2014, two years into his second term. But on January 19, 2017, his last full day in office, Obama announced 330 more commutations, for nonviolent drug offenders, bringing his total number of clemencies to 1,715. He has granted commutations to more people than the past 12 presidents combined, including 568 inmates with life sentences. He has granted 212 pardons. His final group of clemencies was the most Obama granted in a day and the most granted on one day in US history.

SOCIAL

- The number of abortions performed in the United States has fallen to the lowest rate since 1974; the year after the Supreme Court legalized the practice in the historic 1973 Roe v. Wade decision, according to a new study. Researchers there found that only 14.6 of every 1,000 women between the ages of 15 and 44 had abortions in 2014, marking a drop to half of the peak rate seen in the early 1980s. The total number of abortions performed in 2014 hovered around 926,000, showing a gradual, yet consistent, downward trend over the past two decades.

TECHNOLOGY

- The future of television just got a little clearer. An hour after Comcast Corp. said its Esquire cable network will shut down, a sign of flagging interest in traditional pay TV, Netflix Inc. reported its biggest quarter ever, beating analysts’ estimates on new subscribers and validating its vision of a world where everyone watches TV online and on-demand.

IX. PRACTICAL CONSIDERATIONS

ONE OF THE MOST VERSATILE ASSETS YOU CAN PURCHASE – is silver. It’s versatile in its usage – as money, jewelry, or industrial metal; it’s versatile as an asset – allowing useful strategies such as leveraging the gold/silver ratio to purchase more gold ounces over time; and it’s versatile in the ways in which you can purchase it – as minted collectible coins, minted currency, bars, and much more. In the world of enduringly valuable assets, it plays a part that is crucial and often neglected – to the neglector’s detriment. Find out more about this crucial asset in the enclosed insert, or call ICA at 1-800-525-9556 to discuss details with an expert on the subject.

X. FINAL THOUGHT: PRAYING FOR PRESIDENT TRUMP

MIA readers and Americans who understand the times should be praying for Donald Trump and his incoming administration like never before. Never has there been a more powerful coalition of forces, including globalists, communists, leftists of all shades, homosexuals, Muslims, and Christian/Jewish/Israel-haters – all aided and abetted by the controlled US and global media, than are arrayed against Donald Trump today. Indeed, all the forces of evil (i.e., satanic forces) are arrayed against one man.

In 50 years of watching (and writing about) the communists, globalists, and political leftists advance their cause, this writer has never seen these combined forces of evil unite against one man to the extent which they have against Trump. They see their entire globalist/one world agenda (or dictatorship) at risk. Indeed, in the past three months, they have dramatically sped up that agenda – as described above. They are frightened, angry, and incredibly motivated to advance their agenda and stop their hated enemy, Donald Trump, at all costs.

Having failed to stop his election and inauguration via the most vile smear/vilification/character assassination campaign in US history in their controlled media (a campaign which WILL continue) and via allies in the US Congress (in both parties) they WILL try to kill him, à la JFK, RFK, and Ronald Reagan.

All Americans who understand the times (including the millions of shortsighted Christians who DID NOT vote for him), should be praying for his continued protection. The same supernatural power of God that (against all odds) miraculously caused Trump to be elected (in answer to the prayers of millions of Christians all over the world, this writer believes) needs to be sought through prayer in one united voice for Trump’s protection. (This writer actually knows Christians in the Philippines, Singapore, Nepal, and India who are seriously praying at this time for his protection.)

As this writer has written in recent months, Trump was an unlikely person to be suddenly thrust into the Presidency of the United States. But he is tough, he is independent, he is very smart, and he is not afraid to take on the combined and evil forces of the globalists, the political left, and Islam.

His election, in this writer’s strong opinion, was because the God of the Bible, in His mercy, decided to give America another chance – or at least more time to get its act together. And if America gets another chance at freedom, then so do the freedom-loving peoples all over the world who are also threatened by the globalist agenda.

Trump is pro-Christian, pro-freedom, pro-Israel, and loves America – the direct opposite of our recent communist/Muslim president. Early on, this writer would have chosen a more doctrinaire conservative candidate like Rand Paul or Ben Carson (neither of which ever had a chance). But this writer believes that the God of the Bible had more to do with raising up Trump for just such a time as this – as He did Joseph, Gideon, David, and Esther in times of crisis in the Old Testament – than most people would suppose.

At least America now has a chance to turn back from the brink of destruction we had arrived at under Obama, and the total collapse of freedom that was virtually guaranteed under Hillary Clinton. We need to be praying by the millions not only for his protection, but also for his success in fighting back against the forces of evil – for his wisdom, for God’s guidance and discernment, for good and tough people to be surrounding him, for success in fighting back against the globalist establishment, against their prostitute media, and the forces that have systematically been destroying our freedom over the past 60 years.

Throughout the campaign, since the election and from this point forward, all the forces of hell have been and will be fighting back against him – some even from within his own administration and the Republican Party. This writer has long felt that America is as much (or more) in a spiritual battle as in a political battle. Lovers of freedom, of traditional American values, of the Constitution, of America’s now largely abandoned Christian heritage and foundation – need to fight back on both levels, spiritual and political. As JFK said: “If not now, then when? If not us, then who?”

We can (and should) all be praying for Trump’s protection and success in rolling back the forces of evil in our country – who were very close to total control. As II Chronicles 7: 14 says: “If my people, who are called by my name, will humble themselves, and pray, and seek my face, and turn from their wicked ways, then will I hear from heaven and will forgive their sin and will heal their land.”

How does this apply to America’s present political situation and spiritual condition? It is worth pondering!

And that is the bottom line!
