DMG: The Simple, Natural Supplement
That Boosts Strength, Stamina and Youthful Vigor As You Age!

Dear Reader of The McAlvany Intelligence Advisor,

Muhammad Ali was one of the greatest professional boxing champions of all times. But like most people, when he turned 35 he started getting flabby, short-winded and lethargic. His handlers were concerned he’d lose to some of the younger and more fit boxers he was scheduled to fight.

So his handlers called in Dr. Richard Passwater, Ph.D., a celebrated sports nutrition specialist who was known for using nutritional intervention to help whip aging athletes back into shape, including key team members of the aging Washington Redskins football team.

For Ali, Dr. Passwater prescribed an exotic nutrient supplement from Russia, then-called “Vitamin B-15,” but which is now known simply as DMG.

As Dr. Passwater tells the story:

“...at age 34, Ali was having trouble training for his April 30, 1976 bout with Jimmy Young in Landover, MD. He was sluggish, unmotivated and getting a little flabby.

I was contacted by one of his associates, Gene Kilroy. A blood test revealed that he was low in iron, but not yet anemic.

Chelated iron, multivitamins rich in the B-vitamins and extra antioxidant vitamins quickly normalized his blood chemistry.

But it wasn’t until I put him on ‘vitamin B-15’ (i.e., DMG) that he fully regained his stamina and drive.”

Ali’s Secret Weapon

Ali went on to win his bout with Jimmy Young. And during an internationally televised interview in Ali’s dressing room just before his May 24, 1976 bout with Richard Dunn from London, the champ held up a bottle of “B-15” to show the world his “secret weapon.”

What’s more, in 1978, after five consecutive boxing victories over younger boxers like Young, Dunn, Norton, Evangelista and Shavers, the National Medical Bulletin reported openly that Ali was taking the substance.

Not only did Muhammad Ali benefit tremendously from DMG supplementation, but many other athletes did as well, including aging members of the Pittsburgh Steelers, New York Yankees, Dallas Cowboys and Washington Redskins.

Indeed, thanks to Dr. Passwater, DMG was the little-known “secret weapon” used by the Washington Redskins during their three stunning comeback Super Bowl victories from 1983 to 1992, until other pro teams found out about DMG and quickly began using it themselves!

20 Year FDA Ban

Shortly after its usage became widespread throughout the 1970s, the FDA moved against “vitamin B-15” (i.e., DMG) and – what else is new? – banned its usage. And for nearly 20 years DMG became impossible to obtain in the U.S.
But in 1994 when Congress passed the DSHEA (Dietary Supplement Health and Education Act), DMG was once again allowed to be sold as a nutritional supplement, because it’s all-natural, and is found in plants, food crops and is even made by the liver in the human body.

Aging Without the Downward Spiral

DMG, which stands for Dimethylglycine, has been demonstrated through more than 40 years worth of clinical research to dramatically improve the nutritional environment of the cells, tissues and organs of the human body so you can function at more youthful levels no matter how old you are!

And perhaps that’s why Dr. Roger V. Kendall, Ph.D., author of Building Wellness With DMG, considers this unique and powerful nutrient one of the single-most important nutritional supplements for the health and well-being of the entire human body. Dr. Kendall states:

> “Your body needs and uses DMG every day. It affects nearly every metabolic pathway within the cell, boosting cellular metabolism and efficiency. Because it occupies a central position in the cell’s metabolic pathway, it produces a wide range of beneficial biological effects on the body, including increased energy levels, improved neurological function and mental clarity, improved physical performance, improved sexual function, better cardiovascular health and immune system function, and improved cholesterol, blood glucose and hormone levels, among others.

> In my research, I’ve found that DMG can enable a person to function at a more optimal mental and physical level as it aids the body in overcoming a number of adverse health conditions...It provides more mental clarity and greater vitality...can improve brain and sexual function...and has the ability to boost a person’s immune response. I myself have been taking DMG for nearly 25 years to maintain high energy levels, to optimize my cardiovascular health, and to strengthen my immune system.”

Numerous Healing Benefits

Even Dr. James Balch, M.D., and Phyllis Balch, C.N.C., authors of the #1 bestselling health book Prescription for Nutritional Healing enthusiastically recommend DMG for no less than 48 different health conditions!

And as Dr. Balch writes in Prescription for Nutritional Healing:

> “Taking supplemental DMG can have a wide range of beneficial effects, including helping the body maintain high energy levels and boosting mental acuity.

> DMG has been found to enhance the immune system, and to reduce elevated blood cholesterol and triglyceride levels. It improves oxygen utilization by the body, helps to normalize blood pressure and blood glucose levels, and improves the functioning of many important organs.”

In short, DMG is the one nutritional supplement that, simply stated, makes you feel young all over again when you take it regularly.

What Your Doctor Hasn’t Told You About DMG

Most people have never heard of DMG. Indeed, most doctors have never heard of it, because they’re trained to focus mainly on drugs that merely suppress symptoms of disease.
Yet DMG is responsible for triggering over 41 crucial biochemical reactions in your body that are directly and undeniably linked to how well (or how poorly) you age!

In fact, this powerful anti-aging nutrient was first discovered by scientists working for the Russian space program. They were trying to solve the problem of accelerated aging in Russian cosmonauts, which was caused by prolonged exposure to high levels of ionizing radiation in space. When cosmonauts who used DMG returned to earth, they displayed none of the symptoms of cellular damage and premature aging their counterparts all displayed!

This spurred Russian researchers to study DMG like no other nutrient had ever been studied. What they found was astonishing. They discovered that DMG works at the cellular level and serves as a building block to amino acids, hormones, neurotransmitters, and even DNA. It’s a powerful metabolic enhancer. And it aids in critical processes associated with cellular respiration, immune response, and oxygen utilization within the body.

Russian researchers also discovered that DMG plays important roles in the prevention of fatigue and in supporting youthful brain function and clarity of mind. What’s more, they found DMG is critical to proper immune system function.

In fact, in a more recent 1990 study conducted on human subjects, DMG was found to increase antibody production by more than 400%. It stimulated both branches of the immune system, producing a three to five-fold increase in protective antibody production. [Reap EA, Lawson JW. (1990). Stimulation of the immune system response by dimethylglycine, a nontoxic metabolite. Journal of Laboratory and Clinical Medicine, 115, 481-486.]

Essential To All Human Function

As nutritional supplement expert George Foss states in The Foss Report on Nutritional Supplements:

> “In humans, DMG is made in the liver. But as we age, the body unfortunately makes less and less of it. Yet it is absolutely required by the body’s 70 trillion cells for everything from proper nutrient absorption to cellular metabolism and energy production. It is directly responsible for oxygenation of the bloodstream, tissues and organs.

> It boosts neuronal activity and other key brain functions. It is vital to healthy heart function. It supports proper liver function and detoxification. And it’s also required by the body for peak immune system function.

> In short, DMG is absolutely essential to virtually all human biological function. It’s even responsible for the body’s production of DNA. Without proper levels of DMG, life simply grinds to a screeching halt.

> Fortunately, supplementing your body’s flagging stores of DMG as you age helps restore virtually all bodily functions to more youthful levels, and dramatically enhances the healing effects of almost all other nutrients taken with it…”

Young Again…With DMG!

After 1994 when it became legal again to sell DMG as a nutritional supplement, it was initially ignored until scientists like Roger V. Kendall, Ph.D. and others began looking into the older research from the 1960s and ’70s, as well as the older Soviet clinical research demonstrating it to be an astonishing anti-aging supplement.

Soon, other cutting-edge researchers began performing their own studies. They discovered even more remarkable life-enhancing benefits of DMG, including its ability to help restore flagging immune system function, and “act as a cellular catalyst that makes the whole body work better.”
As word of DMG’s many astonishing age-defying benefits began to reach the general public by word of mouth, its usage has rapidly grown among the “40-plus” crowd who cherish its many uplifting and restorative properties.

As Dr. Ray Sahelian, M.D., bestselling author of Mind Boosters: Improve Your Mind, Memory, and Mood has written:

“If you find the field of mind-boosting pills, sex nutrients, and anti-aging interesting, you will certainly want to learn more about DMG (dimethylglycine).”

And as one of his readers recently wrote in a comment posted online:

“I took 1,400 mg. of DMG by mistake (misread the directions). The most amazing thing happened. I built and installed a wall-to-wall laundry shelf, organized a laundry room and painted the room in one day.

The reason I say this is amazing is because I’ve been in a couple of car accidents and suffered concussions. My brain has never been the same since. My typical day starts out with my hand on my cheek wondering what I’m supposed to do. Literally, I have to figure out what to do and how to do it, such as making a cup of tea, preparing a meal, feeding my dogs. Next I have to figure out what my responsibilities are for the day and how to do them. I have notes around the house to help me know what to do next.

After taking DMG I felt like a super-human while building that shelf and giving the laundry room an overhaul. I knew exactly what to do. I was able to determine what tools I would need. I was able to determine exactly how to do the project.

And I did the project with ease, excitement and with excellence. Not once did I experience those long frustrating pauses as to what I’m supposed to do and how to accomplish something.”

How Does It Work?

That’s exactly the type of restorative benefits so many DMG users now relate. But how does it work to heal and restore youthful vitality?

According to Dr. Richard V. Kendall, Ph.D., author of Building Wellness With DMG, and widely considered to be the world’s leading expert in the biochemistry and therapeutic applications of DMG:

“DMG occupies a key spot in the metabolic pathway, which makes the cells of the body work more efficiently. It improves cell-to-cell communication and enhances the body’s functions at the cellular level. It gives a wide range of specific health benefits, provides protection against infectious agents, and can optimize performance whether you’re an athlete or simply want to have a more active lifestyle.

DMG aids cardiovascular function by improving oxygen utilization, reduces elevated cholesterol and triglyceride levels, decreases angina pain and high blood pressure. It possesses anti-cancer activity while preventing metastasis.

DMG modulates the immune system including antibody production, T and B cell proliferation and cytokine regulation. We believe it also works well to support neurological function and mental clarity.

DMG can promote the cellular production of hormones, antibodies, neurotransmitters, nucleic acids, glutathione, creatine and SAMe. As one may expect there’s a broad and very positive impact on health and well-being from a supplement with such wide-ranging metabolic benefits.”
Boost Immunity…Increase Stamina

And as Jiashu Zhang, scientist, inventor and patent holder of a “Method of producing N, N-dimethyl glycine hydrochloride” states in his patent:

“DMG plays a crucial role in the respiratory cycle of the cells, transporting oxygen and serving as a potent methyl donor... A study in animals showed that immune response to the flu virus and to salmonella was increased between 300% to 1,000%, making DMG a powerful immune booster.

DMG has also been used to increase stamina. In one study, athletes experienced a 40% increase in stamina. DMG helps transport oxygen into cells, increasing their efficiency and preventing lactic acid build-up.

Conclusively, as a nutritional supplement, DMG can improve physical and mental performance... the nutritional and physiological properties of DMG come from it being an ergogenic substance (i.e., it tends to increase work output), an anti-stress nutrient, a cell antioxidant, and an immune response potentiator.”

What Other Medical Practitioners Are Saying About DMG…

Many cutting-edge medical practitioners are catching on to the astonishing array of healing benefits offered by DMG, and are beginning to use it in their own practices. What they are finding is, in many cases, blowing their minds...

Renowned cardiologist Dr. Mitchell Pries, M.D., Ph.D. has conducted hundreds of clinical trials on his cardiovascular patients since 1979. He has found dramatic results on his patients with DMG supplementation. He reports: “Cardiovascular patients on DMG almost universally experienced favorable reactions such as improved well-being, vitality and mobility; overall improvement in circulation... decreases in cholesterol levels... decreases in blood pressure... and improvement in cardiac response in patients undergoing exercise stress tests.”

According to Dr. C. Bartholomew of the Bluefield Clinic in West Virginia, “I would like to express my initial excitement about DMG. We have been doing research at the Bluefield Clinic and in a small group of patients we have seen significant findings in a rather short period of time. These patients are diabetic, overweight, and have circulatory problems. Both pre- and post-DMG laboratory work was done in a hospital and is on record. I am... very excited about what I am seeing with DMG.”

Dr. James Frackelton, M.D., of Cleveland, Ohio, treats cancer patients. He reports: “Now, for those people who have more serious illnesses, for instance cancer, I include DMG as one of the standard nutrient additions to their dietary programs... These people may still have their cancer, but they show much symptomatic improvement by taking DMG. It boosts their immune system.”

And according to Dr. J. Noverini, D.C., “Several of my patients and myself have been taking DMG. Not only do we feel well overall, but our immune systems and liver and heart functions have improved as well. I highly recommend DMG.”

Marina Zacharias, a holistic practitioner from Jacksonville, Oregon is also enthusiastic about DMG. She states:

“The most exciting use of DMG arose from a study by the Medical University of South Carolina. It was reported in the ‘Journal of Infectious Diseases’ that in a double-blind clinical study, DMG increases antibody production by more than 400% in humans.

Just as important, DMG stimulates both the antibody response and cellular immunity branches of the immune system! The findings were later confirmed at Clemson University in a series of animal experiments led by a professor of microbiology. The Clemson study demonstrated that rabbits given DMG stimulated both branches of the immune system to the extent that they produced a three to five-fold increase in protective antibodies. T cell proliferation was also increased and interferon production was doubled.

DMG also acts as a detoxifying agent and antioxidant, protecting body cells from unwanted reactions caused by free radicals.”

Where to Get Therapeutic-Quality Stabilized DMG (Before the FDA Bans It Again)

One of the best sources for pure, high-quality DMG is a small company called Targeted Nutrients in Phoenix, Arizona. This company specializes in supplying unique and often difficult-to-obtain therapeutic-quality nutritional supplements such as DMG.

In fact, unlike previous forms of DMG that tended to break down in the presence of humidity and therefore had to be packaged as tablets in individual aluminum foil pouches so they wouldn’t lose potency, the therapeutic-quality DMG supplied by Targeted Nutrients is highly stabilized. This allows it to be packaged in easy-to-swallow capsules (with no clumsy foil packaging), giving it far longer shelf-life, and allowing it to maintain maximum potency for years on end.

This gives you a more potent alternative to the older and far less stable forms of this powerful health-promoting supplement. (This also allows you to more conveniently carry DMG in your daily pill monitor!)

What’s more, most distributors of DMG supply only 60 capsules per bottle, and offer only 100 mg. per capsule, for a total of 6,000 mg. per bottle. But when you order from Targeted Nutrients you’ll get a whopping 100 capsules per bottle (that’s 40 more capsules than usual).

And each capsule contains 125 mg. of pure, therapeutic-quality DMG, rather than only 100 mg. That’s a grand total of 12,500 mg. per bottle. In other words, you get twice the DMG…and it’s the pure therapeutic-quality, American-sourced DMG rather than the unstable, inferior-quality Chinese-sourced DMG other companies offer!

And the good news just gets better: We’ve convinced the good folks at Targeted Nutrients to make a very special introductory offer for readers of The McAlvany Intelligence Advisor. Instead of paying the usual $34.95 per bottle, you pay only $27.95. That’s a nice, hefty savings of $7 per bottle.

And if you order 12 bottles, you get them for only $19.95 each – you save a whopping $15 per bottle! Or get 6 bottles for only $22.95 each and save $12 per bottle! Or get 3 bottles for only $25.95 each and save $9 per bottle! But to take advantage of this special, strictly time-limited introductory money-saving offer, you must act within the next 10 days!

To sum up, you get twice the DMG offered by others…you get pure, therapeutic-quality American-sourced DMG rather than the unstable and inferior-quality Chinese-sourced DMG…and you can save as much as $15 per bottle!

Plus…shipping is FREE on all orders for the next 10 days only. And all orders are covered by an iron-clad, 90-day money-back guarantee from Targeted Nutrients. You either experience the benefits we’ve promised, or you get your money back!

Are You Starting to Feel Your Age?

Clinical research shows there’s nothing else like DMG on the face of the earth, and no other nutritional supplement does so much for the human body, for so little.

That’s because it works at strengthening and reviving the inside of your body – on the cellular level – so that the outside of your body doesn’t fall victim to the ravages of premature aging and related disease.

So if you’re really starting to feel your age, and you’d like to regain some of that youthful vim, vigor and vitality, DMG may be exactly what you need. It won’t turn back the hands of time. Nothing can. But if over 40 years worth of clinical research is any indication, it will help you live a healthier, happier, longer, stronger, more vibrant and productive life, and have a great time in the process!

Indeed, if you were to take only one other nutritional supplement with your daily multivitamin/mineral supplement regimen, DMG should definitely be the one! DMG not only has its own astonishing array of benefits you’ll feel immediately, but because of its ability to boost the metabolism of every cell, tissue and organ in your body, it makes all other nutrients taken with it work better too.

I strongly urge you to pick up at least 3 or 4 bottles of DMG while this special money-saving offer is still in effect. It’s a great way to get acquainted with the life-enhancing, age-defying benefits of DMG.

But remember, this special offer is available only for the next 10 days, so please act quickly and decisively while the special discount pricing (and FREE shipping) are still available!

Yours for vim, vigor and vitality the natural way…
